DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to the amendment filed 1/6/06.

Currently, claims 1-18 and 19-26 (new) are pending. Claims 8-18 have been withdrawn. Claims 1-7 are generic.

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Specification

2. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Carey et al. (Us 5,219,787, dated 6/15/93).

Carey shows the method as claimed in figures 16-23 and corresponding text, with resist post 94/106 on connection pad of a semiconductor chip 92 (column 1, lines 50-67), insulating layer 100/108 removing part of the insulating layer (fig. 18 and 21), removing the resist post (fig. 18 and 21), forming the conductive layer 120 (fig. 22-23) to simultaneously form a connecting conductor filling the through hole and a wiring extending over the insulating layer from the connecting conductor.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 2812

8. Claims 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee et al. (US 6,096,655, dated 8/1/00) in view of Carey et al. (US 5,219,787, dated 6/15/93).

9. Lee shows the method substantially as claimed and as described in the preceding paragraphs.

10. Carey lacks anticipation only in not explicitly teaching that the post is formed of resist.

11. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to formed the post of resist in the method of Lee, with the motivation that since Lee teaches that the post may be made of a different material than silicon (column 4, lines 15-20), the resist post in Carey for a similar structure is comparable.

12. Claims 2-4, 6 and 19-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carey et al. (Us 5,219,787, dated 6/15/93).

13. Carey shows the method substantially as claimed and as described in the preceding paragraphs.

14. Carey lacks anticipation only in not teaching that the wiring layer is formed by plating; connecting a circuit board; connecting a support member; and the limitation regarding the surface area.

15. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have had the wiring layer be formed by plating; to have connected a circuit board; to have connected a support member; and to have had the limitation regarding the surface area, in the method of Carey, with the motivation that since Carey teaches multilevel interconnect/chip structures (column 1, lines 50-67; column 2, lines 1-10), these structures and limitations would be appropriate for the multilevel devices.

Art Unit: 2812

Response to Arguments

16. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

17. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See the previously mailed and the attached PTO form 892.

18. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 2812
